03-May-2014

Dear Dr. Lewis:

It is a pleasure to accept your manuscript entitled "Understanding Conduct Disorder: The ways in which mothers attempt to make sense of their children's behaviour" in its current form for publication in Clinical Child Psychology and Psychiatry.

If you would like your article to be freely available online immediately upon publication (as some funding bodies now require), you can opt for it to be published under the SAGE Choice Scheme on payment of a publication fee. Please simply follow the link to the Contributor Agreement form in the next email and you will be able to access instructions and further information about this option within the online form.

Thank you for your fine contribution. On behalf of the Editors of Clinical Child Psychology and Psychiatry, we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

Sincerely,

A/Prof. Michael Tarren Sweeney

Editor in Chief, Clinical Child Psychology and Psychiatry
