Research survey into changes in food culture

Dear Local Resident

It would be very much appreciated if you could spare ten minutes or so to complete this short questionnaire.

This questionnaire is part of a survey about food culture. It seeks the views from residents who live in this local area of Haringey. It can be completed by any member of the household/family over 18 years old. This survey is part of a research project conducted as part of an MPhil course at the Department of Geography, Royal Holloway, University of London.

It is looking into how significant cuisine is to cultural identity and how cuisine knowledge is passed between people. This questionnaire asks about cooking & eating habits at home as well in restaurants/cafes. It is not concerned with diet, nutrition or health.

Answers can be anonymous, are treated in confidence and will only be used for the purposes of this research project. The questionnaire has five short sections. Parts one to four ask about cuisine and identity, how cuisine changes and influences on food choices. Part five asks for some basic information about you. Most questions are answered by ticking a box.

If you would like to complete the questionnaire, please return the completed form to the School. Please re-use this envelope using the reply label provided (this can be stuck over the existing label). The latest date to return questionnaires is _____.

Thank you very much for taking part. Your time and help is appreciated. If you have any questions regarding this questionnaire or the research project please contact Rebecca Sheldon at:

rebecca.sheldon@btinternet.com

Note for completion: The term “childhood culture” is used in several questions. This refers to the culture (including the food eaten) that you grew up with, wherever that was and whatever cultural community your family was part of. This may be the same or different community in which you live now.
